

CANADIAN ART TODAY

Guido Molinari
Mutation sérielle
vertrouge 1966,
Acrylic on canvas,
81 x 98 in Coll: Art
Gallery of Ontario

CANADIAN ART TODAY

edited by
William Townsend

1970

Published by Studio International 37 Museum Street, London W.C.1 and 155 West 15th Street, New York N.Y. 10011
and printed by W & J Mackay & Co Ltd Chatham Kent

Acknowledgements

Studio International wishes to thank the following for their valuable help in the preparation of this publication: The Canada Council, The National Gallery of Canada, the Art Gallery of Ontario, The Vancouver Art Gallery, the Musée d'art contemporain, London Ontario Public Library and Art Museum, Mrs Elizabeth R Cruickshank, Mr and Mrs Jack Gordon, Mr and Mrs J R Longstaffe, Mr Kurt Von Meir, Mr David Milne, Mr David Mirvish, Mr Michael Walls, the Bau-Xi Gallery, Douglas Gallery, Dunkelman Gallery, Galerie Godard Lefort, A J Govinchuck, Isaacs Gallery, Laing Gallery, Carmen Lamanna Gallery, Norman Mackenzie Art Gallery, Taras Masciuch, mathieu, Mazelow Gallery, David Mirvish Gallery, Galerie de Montréal, Gallery Moos Ltd, Pollock Gallery, Galerie Sherbrooke, the owners of the copyright of the Refus global, Photographes Associés Place Bonaventure, Ayriss, Ayriss-Reeves, John Braun, Click Camera Centre, Dommasch, John Evans Photography Ltd, John A Ferrari, Kerr, J S Markiewicz, Roy G W Robel, Rugoni, Nik Semenoff, Peter Thomas, Tommy Thompson & Company Ltd, Robert Title, Department of Transport, Edmonton International Airport and the National Film Board of Canada, Ron Vickers Ltd, Tom Wakeyama, William Bros Photographers Ltd, Michiko Yajima, Cara Operations Ltd.

© 1970 W & J Mackay & Co Ltd
Printed in Great Britain

Thanks

Even to be in a position to agree to edit this publication I was bound to be under an obligation to many people whom I cannot here thank individually. To the Canada Council I owe thanks for assisting me, with a grant in 1968, to keep in touch with the Canadian scene and, with a further grant last year, to collect information and material. To the Directors of the National Gallery of Canada, the Art Gallery of Ontario, the Vancouver Art Gallery and of other public galleries and to their colleagues I have for years been indebted for many kindnesses and much help. Without naming them again I must thank those among them who contribute to this issue and who have done much more than write their articles and choose their illustrations; I am grateful to them all for being generous with time and advice. In addition I owe particular thanks to Mr Guy Viau, Deputy Director, and to Mr Brydon Smith, Curator of Contemporary Art, of the National Gallery of Canada, and to Dr Hubbard's secretary, Miss Helen Chisholm, who helped me with my researches on a recent visit to Ottawa; to Miss Janine Smiter and her secretary, Miss Naomi Panchyson, of the Art Gallery of Ontario, whom I troubled with many inquiries; to Mr David Silcox and his secretary, Mrs Paulette Charette, of the Canada Council, who have likewise provided me with photographs, information and assistance of many kinds; to Mrs Anne Brodzky, Editor of artscanada. I am grateful to the owners and directors of private galleries for their readiness to lend generously from their collections of photographs and to have works specially photographed for me; particularly to Mrs Ben Dunkelman, Mrs Mira Godard, Mrs Helene Mazelow, Mr Avrom Isaacs, Mr Carmen Lamanna, Mr Yves Lasnier who spent half a weekend telephoning on my behalf, Mr David Mirvish and Mr Walter Moos. Then there are the artists from whom I have asked for information, photographs or permission to reproduce. I thank them all for their co-operation but I am grateful to many of them for more than a good professional relationship. I wish to record the help in preparing this issue that has come from talk and entertainment with Iain Baxter, Jack Bush and Harold Town; from discussions last year with Yves Gaucher and Guido Molinari; from long letters from Eli Bornstein, Ted Godwin and Ken Lochhead; from Roy and Monica Kiyooka who put up with me so long and looked after me in Montreal. The friendship they and others have offered to the inquirer is for me an inextricable part of the Canadian scene.

I would like here to acknowledge an indebtedness to the writings of two persons not directly concerned with this publication but to whom anyone interested in Canadian art is bound at some time to turn; to Mr Barry Lord and Mr J Russell Harper.

In London, thanks to Diana Meynell for co-ordinating the work at this end; and to my daughter Charlotte for keeping an eye open for me at the Vancouver end.

Finally, thanks to Mr Antony Mackay Miller for the time and the interest he has devoted to the layout of this publication and his patience in the matter of various in-expert and extravagant requests I have made.

William Townsend

Roy Kiyooka, who has designed the cover

Contents

7	Contributors
8	Notes by way of introduction and dedication	William Townsend
12	A letter and 6 salutary poems	Roy Kiyooka
14	Canadian art: Thoughts of an outsider	David Thompson
17	Canadian painting: The forerunners	R H Hubbard
19	Illustrations
25	Les Plasticiens	Pierre Théberge
27	Yves Gaucher	David Silcox
29	Illustrations
33	Notes on the Toronto painting scene: 1959-69	Dennis Reid
36	The art boom that was a trifle flat chested—not a complete bust	Harold Town
37	Illustrations
45	Memories of Saskatchewan	Andrew Hudson
47	Illustrations
52	Notes on Structurist vision	Eli Bornstein
55	Illustrations
61	The Vancouver scene	Doris Shadbolt
65	Illustrations
71	Notes on three painters	David Thompson
73	Illustrations
77	The N.E. Thing Co., and Les Levine	Charlotte Townsend
81	Illustrations
82	From a diary London Ont.	Greg Curnoe
84	Illustrations
85	Extracts from letters	David Milne
85	Jack Bush	in conversation with William Townsend
86	Manifeste des Plasticiens an extract
87	Illustrations
103	Excerpts from Refus global 1948
105	Bibliography
106	Biographies

Contributors

- Eli Bornstein Head of Department of Fine Art,
University of Saskatchewan,
Saskatoon. Founder and editor of
The Structurist
- Jack Bush Painter. Toronto
- Greg Curnoe Painter/film maker/writer/member of the Nihilist Spasm Band/citizen of London, Ontario
- R H Hubbard Chief Curator, the National
Gallery of Canada
- Andrew Hudson Painter and writer. Formerly art critic of The Washington Post
- Roy Kiyooka Painter and poet. Calgary-Regina-
Vancouver-Montreal-Vancouver
- Dennis Reid Assistant Curator, the National Gallery of Canada
- Doris Shadbolt Senior Curator, the Vancouver
Art Gallery
- David Silcox Fine Arts Representative, the Canada Council
- Pierre Théberge Assistant Curator of Canadian Art, the National Gallery of Canada
- David Thompson Formerly art critic of The Times
- Harold Town Painter and writer. Toronto
- Charlotte Townsend Art critic of The Vancouver Sun
- William Townsend Painter. Professor of Fine Art,
University of London